Typists change cartridges in about three seconds. Carbon film for executive letters and for work to be copied, printed or duplicated. Fabric ribbon for routine typing; manuscripts, drafts, memos.

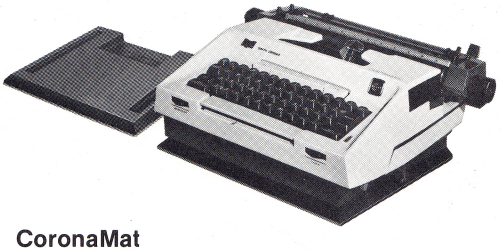
Coronamatic

Office Typewriters prove their durability and dependability in all kinds of offices; in business, education, institutions and government. They are built for full-duty, everyday operation without unnecessary bulk and weight. Their design permits rapid access for service when required, and due to the cartridge feature, many parts, levers and linkages are no longer required. Ask your Smith-Corona Office Typewriter dealer for a complete demonstration and instructions. He can also supply you with a full line of Coronamatic Cartridges.

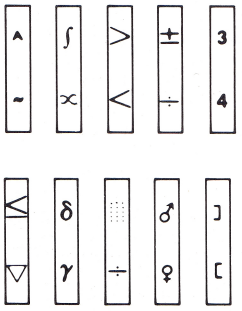


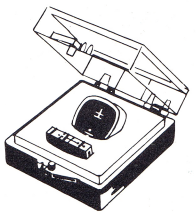
CoronaMat

A durable base (optional at extra cost) softens the sound of typing, secures the typewriter and reduces desk noise. From your Smith-Corona office typewriter dealer.

Changeable Type

Customize your standard keyboard with a choice of optional signs, symbols and accents. Each has two characters and key cap. Complete library of special characters; engineering, medical, library and accents.





Carbon Film

Transfers its ink emulsion to the paper giving a dense, black impression. It can only be used once, and is then discarded. Carbon film is also for work to be printed, copied or otherwise duplicated.

Fabric Ribbon

Continuously rewinds into the cartridge, and can be used over and over until it is used up. Fabric ribbon should be used for planning, drafts and routine typing.
